

Frequently Asked Questions | Online Training Relationship Violence and Sexual Misconduct Policy

Why are students required to complete the Relationship Violence and Sexual Misconduct (RVSM) training program?

In support of our efforts to provide an environment that is safe and free of both harassing and discriminatory behavior, Michigan State University requires all students to complete the RVSM training program. This program was developed as part of MSU's efforts to raise student awareness of relationship violence and sexual assault.

What happens if I do not complete the RVSM training program?

Just as you have requirements that you must complete to graduate, students who do not complete RVSM training will not be able to access their grades and other academic information in StuInfo until the training is completed.

Is the RVSM training program the same as the SARV workshop?

No. The RVSM program is a mandatory online training program that all MSU students are required to complete. SARV is an in-person workshop that all incoming freshmen and transfer students are required to complete.

I am a survivor and I am concerned that the course may be overwhelming or cause an intense emotional response for me. Am I still required to complete the course?

To request an accommodation, please contact the Office of Institutional Equity at titleix@msu.edu or (517) 353-3922.

How can I request a reasonable accommodation due to my disability?

Students may contact the Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities to request a reasonable accommodation.

I have not received an email notice to complete RVSM training. What do I do?

First, consider checking your spam folder. Students who forward their MSU email to an external account may find the email is filtered into their spam folders.

Second, you may contact the Office of Institutional Equity at titleix@msu.edu or (517) 353-3922 to confirm if you have been added to the training cohort. The training cohort is updated daily; however, it is possible that newly enrolled students may experience a 1-2 day delay from the time they enroll until they are added to the training cohort.

I no longer have the email notice to complete the RVSM training program. How do I access the course?

Navigate to <https://studentsuccess.org/SSO/msu> and log in using your MSU ID and password.

I completed a similar course previously, do I still need to complete the RVSM program?

Yes, all students are required to complete the RVSM program even if they completed a prior version of RVSM or completed a similar program through another on-campus unit.
